

One-on-One with Robyn Fuentes

Date: Monday, August 24, 2026 | 1:30-2:00 PM CT (18:30-19:00 UTC) (Teams) Prepared for: David O'Hara

Summary of Interactions (June 15 - August 24, 2026)

Cadence has held since the last documented prep: 1:1s ran June 15, July 9, July 22, with two reschedules in early August before today's session. Volume outside the standing 1:1 is moderate and concentrated in three threads: a live back-and-forth on the Houston Texans client event that grew directly out of the exec-event idea raised last prep, the now-running One Texas Sales Update monthly cadence, and a leadership shout-out for Robyn's South Texas performance. No email from Robyn is currently sitting unanswered longer than two days.

Houston Texans Game - Client Invite List (August 21-22)

David sent Robyn a draft outreach message on August 21 covering the Texans tickets Improving is sharing with Solace (5 tickets and 1 parking pass of 8 total passes), asking for her feedback before sending. Robyn replied August 22 with one substantive edit: add a field for client opportunity size or company size on the invite list, so people are prioritized by whether they're a new-logo prospect or an account with expansion opportunity, without having to ask separately. This is the same Jawwad/Stephen relationship thread flagged as "early, TBD" last prep, now turned into a real invite list with a live logistics decision needed. STATUS: NEEDS RESPONSE.

One Texas Sales Update Cadence (June 8 - September 1)

The monthly touchbase David proposed last prep is running. He re-sent the standing invite August 20 to Robyn, Don McGreal, Diana Stevens, Stephen Johnson, and Matt Russell; the next session is on the calendar for September 1. Whether the first live session (originally slated for the week of June 15) actually ran, and what came out of it, wasn't confirmed in the research window. Worth a direct check with Robyn on what's working and what to change before the September session.

Recognition for Robyn - South Texas Performance (July 16-17)

Bryan Crawford sent a note to Scott McMichael, David, Matt, and Susan recognizing Robyn's discipline in keeping South Texas focused on "the Improving Win" despite the region's numbers. David and Scott both replied with public thanks. This is a positive, resolved thread worth surfacing directly to Robyn rather than assuming she saw the internal chain.

South Texas Pipeline & Revenue

Source: Obsidian cache, revenue-tracker 2026-08-20 (based on July actuals, within 30-day freshness window) and co-sell-pipeline 2026-08-20 (within 7-day window). PowerBI Financial Outlook link returned a redirect error on the most recent pull; cache was used per protocol.

Revenue (July 2026 actuals):

- South Texas: -24% CQ vs. target, -22% CQ vs. prior year - double miss
- South Texas YTD: -21% vs. target, -22% vs. prior year
- South Texas 90-Day Forecast: 82% (below the 90% threshold - gap will not close this quarter)
- One Texas overall CQ vs. target: -10.5% (Dallas +3%, South Texas -24%)

Co-sell pipeline (One Texas, 2026 YTD as of August 20):

- Rock 4 status: CLOSED, over target - combined pipeline + won of $21.415M vs. $15M target (142.8% achievement)
- Houston specifically: $7.8M won - a primary driver of the overall Rock 4 result
- Microsoft remains the primary partner ($1.45M pipeline); Confluent $785K open with no 2026 wins yet
- One unresolved item: partner ID 176360014 ($2.6M in won data) still needs CRM reconciliation - not Robyn's open item, but worth knowing it's still outstanding

Active pursuits - carried forward from June, status unconfirmed:

Open Threads Requiring Action

1. 🚩 Houston Texans Client Event - Invite List Feedback (NEEDS RESPONSE)

Status: Robyn replied August 22 with a specific ask; no reply from David found in the research window.

- David shared the draft outreach message and the ticket allocation (5 tickets, 1 of 8 parking passes going to Solace) on August 21
- Robyn asked to add a client opportunity size / company size field to the invite list so invitees can be prioritized by new-logo potential vs. expansion opportunity
- Action needed: Confirm whether the invite list gets that field added, and give Robyn a close date - regular season opens in September and the planning window is closing.

2. 🚩 South Texas Double Miss on Revenue (OPEN)

Status: -24% CQ vs. target, -22% CQ vs. prior year, 90-Day Forecast at 82% - the gap will not close this quarter per the cached snapshot.

- Rock 4 co-sell pipeline closed well over target largely on the strength of Houston's $7.8M won, which is a useful data point to hold alongside the revenue miss
- Kirby Corp, Expedia, and Constellation have shown no tracked activity since the June prep
- Action needed: Ask Robyn directly what's moving on Kirby, Expedia, and Constellation, and whether David's involvement would help unblock any of them.

3. 🚩 One Texas Sales Update - First Session Outcome Unconfirmed (VERIFY)

Status: Cadence invite is live and the next session is September 1, but whether the originally planned first session (week of June 15) actually happened, and what came out of it, wasn't found in email or calendar.

- Action needed: Confirm with Robyn whether the format is working for her and whether anything needs to change before September 1.

Tuesday, September 1

Suggested Talking Points

1. Close the loop on the Texans invite list today. Robyn's ask (opportunity/company size on the invite field) is simple to execute - confirm it and give her a hard date so the list goes out with enough runway before the season opener.
2. Lead with the number, then ask what's blocking movement. South Texas is -24% CQ vs. target and the 90-Day forecast (82%) says it won't close this quarter. Walk Kirby, Expedia, and Constellation one at a time: what's the real blocker on each, and is it a client-side pace issue or something David can unstick.
3. Point to Houston's $7.8M co-sell win as leverage, not just a revenue offset. Rock 4 closed well over target largely on Houston's strength. Ask Robyn what made that motion work and whether it's repeatable against the stalled accounts.
4. Check the One Texas Sales Update cadence before it runs again. With the next session on September 1, ask Robyn directly whether the monthly format is giving her what she needs or if it should change.
5. Make sure Robyn saw Bryan Crawford's recognition note. It went out on an internal exec thread she may not have been copied on directly. A short, direct mention from David lands better than assuming the message reached her.
6. Close the loop on the Shelby Stephens blog interview. No confirmation was found that Robyn's interview happened. If it's stalled, a quick nudge keeps the piece from slipping.
